Dear Parent

Year 7 - Preparing for Exam Success

I am writing to advise you that the Year 7 end of year examinations will commence the week after half term, the 1st to 12th June 2015. The exam timetable is attached. Exams will take place in lesson time and where there are no exams, lessons continue as normal.

It is important that you bring the correct equipment to all examinations.

For example;

Two black pens, Calculator, Rubber, Pencils etc.

During tutor periods, students are currently looking at how to prepare for their examinations with the help of their tutors and will be working towards developing a personal revision timetable to assist with this preparation.

We have put together a page on the school website for both parents and students, and it will include resources and revision tips from various subjects.

The Year 7 examinations timetable, showing all examinations, the day they take place and the time, is also on our website page <http://chauncyschool.com/year-seven-revision-2/> however, the timetable is subject to change.

We would encourage you to look at the revision page on the website with your child and work out what would be the best use of time to study over the half term break.

Please also find a blank revision timetable should you need to amend the one they have created during form time.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours sincerely

Alan Crawley
